FOR PACIFIC MAIL

The Pacific Mail Steamship Company contemplates placing in effect a new time schedule for its steamers next June. At approximately the same time it will increase its service. The two big steamers. Mongolia and Manchuria, which were recently purchased by the company while in course of construction from the Atlantic Transport Company, are intended for the Oriental trade, and the Mongolia, which is the nearest completion, will arrive in Manila next May according to present calculations. Other steamers will be added to the company's fleet, and the directors intend broadening the scope of their operation to a considerable extent. The Pacific Mail is a Harriman interest and the belief prevails that there will soon be a fight control of the trans-Pacific freight and passenger traffic.

The construction of the Mongolia and the Manchuria was begun in anticipation of the Congress of the United States passing the Ship Subsidy bill. The bill was defeated and, with it, the hopes of the Atlantic Transport Company. The directors gladly disposed of the two giant freighter liners to the Pacific Mail people. J. H. Rinder has been appointed captain of the Mongolia. The captain of her sister ship, the Manchuria, has not yet been named although there are not a few seafaring men who would like to have the job. Both vessels, it is expected, will make the run between Frisco and Hongkong in 25 days.-Shanghai Times.

A NEW LINE FROM THE ORIENT

A consular report from Lima, Peru, says that the local Chinese residents have promoted a new steamship company called the Compania Maritima Occidental a Vapor, with the object of opening a new steamship service between Peru and the East. At present marine communication is confined to the roundabout route via North America. It is true that there is one Italian sailing vessel plying between Callao, Peru, and Hongkong, but she makes only two voyages a year, a single voyage lasting two or even three months. Then, Japanese steamers, carrying emigrants, make occasional trips to Peru, but they only connect this country and Peru. Moreover, the Peruvian Government and leading business-men are now bent on finding some means of opening active tradal relations with Japan. All these considerations have encouraged the Chinese promoters of the present scheme. This company will have a capital of $25,000, and though the sum may seem inadequate for such an enterprise, it will be sufficient for the company. which is to charter vessels for the time being and does not contemplate owning any. The company's capital has already been subscribed to the amount of about $20,000, the shareholders being almost all Chinese.

CROUCH BUOY FOR LIFE SAVING

A floating buoy, just invented by a Tacoma man, has brought a fortune to its inventor, and Sound shipping men are of the opinion that the device will prove a boon to the people who pass their lives at sea.

The Crouch buoy is a floating one that will carry a line to shore from a ship. It is intended as of especial value in time of shipwreck or storm and works automatically. In shape with me invested in approved securithe device is that of the top. Its inner | ties. Room No. 7, McIntyre building. mechanism is so perfectly arranged that it works automatically and it never fails to do its work. The beating of the waves will drive it to shore and as it goes it will carry a line. All that is needed is to drop it overboard from a ship and the buoy does the rest. Its advantages over the Lyle gun. marked as to cause comment. The Lyle gun has its limits and don't always work.

The inventor is said to have received $300,000 for his rights. Patents on the imuki on easy terms. device have been secured in almost every civilized nation of the world where Maritime commerce is an industry.
